This is Radio Free Dixie and I'm Marc Allen! When it's spring in the South, farmers till their fields. When people think about farming in the Old South and the Confederate States of America, they usually think of cotton. But prior to the War for Southern Independence, the cash value of the South's hogs and cattle was greater than the value of the cotton crop. Very few Southerners were engaged in plantation farming. Most were herdsman who ran their livestock on the South's open range. Their life-style was destroyed by Yankee invaders. And, in the aftermath of the invasion, white Southerners joined former slaves in a new system of slavery: sharecropping. The Sons of Confederate Veterans invite you to educate yourself about the South's proud history at MakeDixieGreatAgain.org and join with us to Make Dixie Great Again!

File: Radio_Free_Dixie_Fake_History.mp3

This is Radio Free Dixie and I'm Marc Allen! We often hear people complain about "fake news", but "fake history" is just as bad. The impression that many people have about the Old South is the result of fake history. For example, have you ever wondered why it was okay for 13 American colonies to secede from England, but wrong for 13 Confederate States to secede? The truth is that both groups had a God-given right to secede and plenty of good reasons! If your ancestors fought for Dixie, hold your head high and defend the truth, and your honor! That's what real men do, ya' know. Join the Confederate Legion, sponsored by the Sons of Confederate Veterans. Go to Make Dixie Great Again.com. This is Radio Free Dixie and I'm Marc Allen. In the history of ancient Israel, sometimes the people and government followed Godly principles, which led to greatness. At other times they ridiculed and disregarded those principles, which led to calamity. [Hesitate.] America has a similar history. When people understood the United States Constitution and demanded that it be strictly followed as our Founding Fathers intended, America was great. [Hesitate.] But with the rise of radical socialism, many Americans lost interest in our founding principles, leading us step-by-step... to calamity. Friends! Now is the time for conviction and courage, not apathy and fear. Join the Confederate Legion, sponsored by the Sons of Confederate Veterans, at Make Dixie Great Again.com. This is Radio Free Dixie and I'm Marc Allen. On the front page of Jackson Mississippi's Clarion Ledger in January 2019, we read that radicals have literally proclaimed "war on the Confederacy in a fight to remove Confederate monuments around the nation." And we see examples of this war every day... war not only on Confederate symbols and monuments but on those of America. Will you stand by while radicals destroy our civilization? In Proverbs 27 we read, "Boast not thyself of tomorrow, for thou knowest not what a day may bring forth." Friends, the time to act is now, because the vandals are on the march. The Confederate Legion, sponsored by the Sons of Confederate Veterans, is fighting back. The radicals that demand the removal of Confederate flags will one day demand the removal of American and Christian flags. And when the radicals attack great men such as Robert E. Lee and monuments to his memory, they're rehearsing for the day when they'll attack George Washington, Thomas Jefferson and our other American heroes. Friend don't hide on the sidelines! This is Radio Free Dixie, and I'm Marc Allen! In 1924 the United States Congress, by unanimous vote, approved the minting of a half-dollar coin displaying the images of Confederate Generals Robert E. Lee and Stonewall Jackson. On the reverse side of the coin we read [speak inspiringly to signify a great quotation]: "Memorial to the valor of the Soldiers of the South." Since then, the U. S. Post office has issued numerous postages stamps honoring the Confederacy's president and military leaders. The Sons of Confederate Veterans are dedicated to honoring all of America's veterans, including Confederate veterans. This is Radio Free Dixie, and I'm Marc Allen! The Sons of Confederate Veterans reminds America that Confederate veterans are also American veterans. This fact was officially recognized in 1958 by the United States Congress. After the War for Southern Independence, Confederate General Joseph Wheeler commanded US troops in the Spanish-American War, and many sons of Confederate veterans served in World War I. In World War II General Stonewall Jackson's great-grandson was killed in action during the Normandy invasion. The South has been at the forefront in shedding its blood for America. This is Radio Free Dixie and I'm Marc Allen. September 17th is Constitution Day, so the Sons of Confederate Veterans invite you to join us in celebrating the Constitution all month long. [Hesitate.] In the Bible, we read of Israel's King Josiah who reigned when the principles that once made Israel great were neglected and forgotten. [pause] Even King Josiah was in the dark until Israel's founding documents were re-discovered. When the king realized how deceived he'd been and how far the people and government had strayed, he [slowly for emphasis] literally ripped his clothes apart! Friends, this September, go to Make Dixie Great Again.com to learn about and celebrate the Godly principles on which our United States and Confederate States Constitutions were built. Ads About Racial Diversity in the Old South

File: Radio_Free_Dixie_Old_South_Racial_Diversity.mp3

This is Radio Free Dixie! Let's talk about Confederate diversity—yes, Confederate. The Northern victors in the War for Southern Independence don't want you to know that thousands of African American Southerners served in the Confederate military. Confederate President Jefferson Davis was so impressed with their service that he recommended to the Confederate Congress that they be emancipated after the South won its independence. After the war, thousands of black veterans collected state war pensions, just like other Confederate veterans, and they attended annual re-unions of the United Confederate Veterans. This is Radio Free Dixie! Diversity is a buzz-word today but little is known about the truly diverse nature of the Confederate States of America. The Sons of Confederate Veterans wants you to know about religious diversity in the Old South. Most people think of Dixie as a society based on the Protestant religion. Yet, during the War for Southern Independence the South's first two heroes, General Beauregard and Admiral Semmes, were Roman Catholics, and the Confederate Secretary of State was Jewish. Within the Confederate Army, chaplains of various faiths worked with soldiers of various faiths. File: Radio_Free_Dixie_Holt_Collier_Story.mp3

This is Radio Free Dixie! Diversity in the Confederate States of America is one of many untold stories of history. For example: Holt Collier was born a slave in Mississippi. As a slave, Holt became famous for his hunting skills and marksmanship. He killed more bears than Davy Crocket and Daniel Boone combined. At the outbreak of the War for Southern Independence, Holt joined the 9th Texas Cavalry as a Confederate sharpshooter. Cherokee Chief, Stand Watie, was a Confederate General commanding Native American and white troops. Captain Harvey, of the Jewish faith, was a leader in the Confederate effort to recapture Galveston. This is Radio Free Dixie, and I'm Marc Allen! It's the fourth of July! And, it's time to celebrate American Independence and to be thankful for the freedom our ancestors gained for us in 1776. Most Americans celebrate the 4th without even realizing they're celebrating one of the most successful secession movements in history! [pause] Yes, that's right, secession! [pause] The 1776 Joint Declaration of Independence is a secession document. America seceded from Great Britain by declaring that we the people have a God-given right to alter or abolish an oppressive government and establish a new one in its place. The right to secede is a God-given, unalienable right. The Sons of Confederate Veterans invite you to learn about America's Secession holiday by visiting our website, MakeDixieGreatAgain.com. Following an armed march at Stone Mountain Georgia by a Marxist militia group, three Marxists were in line buying dozens of boxes of ammo in an Alabama sporting goods store. The clerk asked, "Why all the ammo, guys?" The Marxists answered, "We're getting ready for the war." The clerk replied, "Well, if you're just now buying ammo, you've already lost; we Rednecks been buying ammo for years." Yes, the Marxists want war! Confederate and American monuments and our entire civilization are under assault by Marxist terrorists. Confederate monuments were often paid for with the pennies of children and their parents living in an impoverished South destroyed years earlier by Northern invaders. But despite their poverty, our white and black Confederate ancestors raised the funds to honor, in bronze and marble, their Confederate heroes. In the recent past, Far Left Democrats and Marxists worked almost alone to destroy our Southern heritage, but now many Republicans have joined them. Under pressure from Marxist agitators, a bi-partisan axis including business elites and Republican turncoats in Mississippi over-rode the will of the people to surrender the state's flag because it contained a symbol linked to the Confederacy. By doing so, this cowardly cabal [distinctly] gave the Marxists a green light to move to their next objective in the destruction of Southern civilization. Ads Rebutting Lies and Slander

File: Radio_Free_Dixie_Winning_Is_Not_Everything.mp3

Help the Sons of Confederate Veterans combat slander about great Confederate heroes by biased news reporters and talk show hosts. For example. During a sports radio talk show in the Deep South, a caller announced that he was going to remember Robert E. Lee over the weekend. The host, known for his anti-Confederate opinions, replied, "Well, I'm going to remember Ulysses Grant because I like a winner." Under "The Rest of the Story" at Make Dixie Great Again.com, you can download and share a brilliant article comparing Lee to Grant. Then you can combat bias with facts and tell that talk show host it's foolish to celebrate a winner simply because he won, because then you'd have to celebrate Castro, Mao Tse Tung, the Viet Cong and an endless list of despicable winners dating back to Pontius Pilate. When anti-Confederate big mouths get you down, go to Make Dixie Great Again.com.

Ads About Racial Harmony and Peace

File: Radio_Free_Dixie_Origins_Of_Racial_Discord_Brownlow_1.mp3

Join the Southern Victory Campaign at Make Dixie Great Again.com to promote truth and racial harmony. Today's Marxists divide the races the same way radical Republicans divided the races after their troops invaded and destroyed the Confederacy. During the Reconstruction Era, Republican governor Brownlow of Tennessee said, "I would arm every wolf, panther and bear, every crocodile, every negro, every devil in Hell, cloth them in a Federal uniform and turn them loose on the South to exterminate every man, woman, and child. I would like to see negro troops crowd them into the Gulf of Mexico and drown them." Thousands of threats like that and efforts to make them come true are the real origins of racial discord in Dixie. Join the Southern Victory campaign at Make Dixie Great Again.com to help create racial harmony based on truth and Liberty instead of Marxist tyranny.
